Letter to all officials in MHRD and affiliated institutions and educational institutions

The Hon' Prime Minister in his recent address to the country through "Mann ki Baat" has encouraged swapping bouquets with books or Khadi products. This is a commendable suggestion that we should put to practice immediately.

I am instituting this practice in my own office as well. Visitors and officials would be requested not to bring bouquets. I encourage you to do the same. As a forward-looking government that has earned the goodwill of the people for simplicity and hard work, it's imperative that we should lead by example in every activity.

Regards

JS / Pramod Kumar
